

REDAS WSH Leadership Seminar 2017

In support of MOM's workplace safety programmes to meet the target fatality rate of 1.8 per 100,000 by 2018, REDAS has embarked on a collective effort with various stakeholders to improve the workplace safety & health performance of the construction industry.

The REDAS WSH-Leadership Seminar on 27 October aims to demonstrate developers' leadership role and firm commitment to good WSH safety culture and practices. Industry speakers will share their project experience and learning points on addressing risks throughout the design and construction stages, including temporary works required, phasing and sequence of works and design for future safe maintenance and demolition.
