Programme overview

Undertaking a robust development appraisal (feasibility study) can make or break a project. Understanding the inputs to a model and how these can be affected and manipulated is key.

This is a full day RICS Training session. In the morning, participants will cover the key terminology, principles and inputs relevant to a Development Appraisal and in the afternoon, through case studies and a practical session, candidates will construct their own development appraisal model.

Learning objectives

By the end of the course, delegates should understand:

- Underlying Principles & Terminology (DCF, NPV, IRR)
- Key Property Development Performance Indicators
- What makes a development feasible
- Determining Land Values
- Principles of Financing Modelling
- Stages of a Development Appraisal
- Development Preliminaries
- Development Constraints
- Case Studies
- Building your own Development Appraisal Model

Course structure

- Lecture: interactive series of presentation supported by in-depth group discussions.
- Case studies and exercises: allow you to apply the new theory and concepts in real-life context.
- Practical session: there will be a software based case study. Please bring along your laptop (Windows based) for the class.

Who should attend?

The session will be particularly useful for:

- Property Agents – seeking to better understand and market developments/land.
- Property Owners and Analysts – looking to sharpen their skills in development feasibility.
- Quantity Surveyors and Project Managers – looking to better interact with clients and developers.
- Property Valuers, Developers – seeking to construct a feasibility using best practice techniques.
- Banks & other financial teams – looking to manage risk better.

Pre-requisites

Participants with an understanding of Real Estate industry.
