

REDAS-Jakarta Property Institute Forum:
Singapore-Indonesia Real Estate Investment Prospects
10 July 2018, Tuesday | 10.00am to 3.00pm

Rapid urbanisation is taking South-east Asian economies by storm. Between 2015 and 2030, about 100 million people in ASEAN are expected to migrate from the countryside to cities. As ASEAN cities urbanise, opportunities for real estate abound but is it sustainable? As the global real estate industry rapidly evolve and when disruption becomes the norm, where can we find these opportunities?

The REDAS-JPI forum is a unique event that brings together panellists comprising leading property developers from Singapore and Indonesia. It provides a platform for the real estate development community to connect, share challenges and ideas, explore new ways to deliver development and regeneration opportunities as well as foster synergistic and collaborative partnerships.

About Real Estate Developers' Association of Singapore (REDAS)

Established in 1959, REDAS has evolved from a small group of real estate developers who had the vision of raising the industry's standards and promote the interests to what it is today - Singapore's premier business association of developers of quality real estate and cutting edge urban solutions that support the government's planning objectives and Singapore's urban needs. REDAS represents some 300 members comprising developers, builders, real estate consultancies and allied professionals, bankers, REITs and fund managers. The Association actively engages regulators, policy makers and stakeholders to promote best practices and to support the growth of a vibrant and progressive industry for the creation of quality real estate in Singapore.

About Jakarta Property Institute (JPI)

JPI is a membership-based non-profit organization with a mission to make Jakarta a more livable city and accelerate the growth of the property industry. We conduct research, collaborate with experts and facilitate dialogue among various stakeholders to solve pressing urban issues that affect the city's economic growth and living standards. Our role includes acting as a mediator between the private and public sectors. JPI's members are players in the property industry who are ready to contribute resources to promote Jakarta's sustainable growth.
